

316L Now Available for FasNSeal®

DuraVent has developed a 316L option for the FasNSeal® line, adding another excellent stainless steel choice for highly corrosive environments. 316L has a long-proven record as a venting material and we are pleased to offer this cost effective alternative.

316L option available for select components.
Please refer to the FasNSeal Catalog section for the latest information.

Be sure to add a "B" to the end of the ORDER # (EX: FSVL603B)

Please visit duravent.com for more information

For current pricing and availability, please call customer service at (800) 835-4429.
Information published in all DuraVent bulletins is current at time of publication and is subject to change without notice.